Photos Show Progress On City's New High School

Although the city's new $2 million senior high school is progressing steadily, 100 per cent completion will not come until mid-summer, the architects and general contractor have told the Board of Education.

The central classroom section (pictured at top) is expected to be finished by June 1 and the spacious gymnasium (shown above center) will be completed by July 1. Other sections like one of the classroom wings (bottom photo), will be finished earlier.

Lisbon to Cut Police Force

Council Urges Move Due to Limited Fund

LISBON — Village Council last night authorized Chief Dalton Pike to make up a schedule for three regular patrolmen and himself, meaning that one regular policeman will be laid off because of an anticipated loss in court revenue this year.

Councilmen said that it cost the village $27,000 to run police department last year and they felt that they would be unable to realize $66,000 in fines and meter revenue like they did last year so they had decided to cut police force.

Council took under advisement the raise the police received from the old council at their last meeting Dec. 30. No final action was taken after Mayor John Todd recommended a repeal or amendment of the ordinance. Council agreed to table the matter until after a new schedule is presented by Chief Pike.

The village has five regular policemen, including the chief and one extra who helps during vacation.

2 Die As Bus Crashes Near Bedford, Pa.

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—A bus carrying 18 passengers skidded helplessly on the ice-coated Pennsylvania turnpike Monday night and slammed against a bridge abutment so hard that a 15-foot section of the vehicle was severed.

Two persons riding in the detached portion were killed. All the others, including the driver, were injured and 16 were taken to the Bedford County Memorial Hospital. Nine were released within a few hours.

THREE FINED HERE
Three persons were fined a total of $65 and costs by Mayor Harold D. Smith Monday afternoon. Fined were: Gaylord A. Wright, 22, of Lisbon, $25, overload; Dean Caldwell, 41, of Lisbon, $15, speeding; and William Linnert, 22, of Pittsburgh, $25, overload.

Pupils to Use New Building Jan. 22

Orchard Hill School At Leetonia to Open

LEETONIA — Paul C. Hayes, superintendent of Leetonia Schools announced today that Jan. 22 is the tentative date set for the opening of Orchard Hill School at the north edge of the village.

The roadway has been cut from Townline Road into the school grounds and will be used by school buses.

The walk scheduled to be completed this winter will not be finished until spring. Pupils walking should use either the road in the rear of the building or Washington St. and then the front side walk into the school. Parents should urge their children who are walking to use streets other than Walnut St. until sidewalks are built, Supt. Hayes said.

The State Department of Education, Division of Transportation, has granted the Leetonia Board of Education permission to buy a new bus for the purpose of transporting pupils in grades one through eight from South Side to the new school.

The State Department has agreed to pay 84 per cent of the cost of this bus. It is hoped that the bus will be delivered in time for the opening session.

Bus Stops Scheduled

The stops for this bus will be: No. 1, corners of Columbia and Spruce Sts.; No. 2, corners of Columbia and Mill; No. 3, Columbia and Home; No. 4, corners of the township district.

Objectors said the transfer does not include the entire district and leaves about 50 elementary pupils without a school building. It also takes 14 classroom units from the Columbiana County school system.

The board tabled a request to transfer a portion of the Fairfield-New Waterford school district of Columbiana County to the Columbiana County school district.

The area consists of Section 5 and Section 6 of Fairfield Twp.

New Waterford Bank Officers Are Re-named

NEW WATERFORD—Shareholders of the New Waterford Bank met Saturday night and re-elected directors, Donald W. Elliott of Rogers, W. G. Filer, Charles E. Koch and John H. Koch, all of New Waterford; Robert W. Koch of Akron; Wayne Rudibaugh of Rogers and Harry C. Warrick of Columbiana.

The directors re-elected Robert W. Koch as president. All other officers were re-elected. The stockholders declared a 100 per cent stock dividend, and also a cash dividend of $1.75 per share on all stock outstanding Dec. 31.

Congressional OK Of Defense Outlay Virtually Assured

Union Chief Asks Share of Profits

Leaders of Auto Industry's 'Big 3' Blast Reuther's Plan

DETROIT (AP)—Leaders of the auto industry's Big Three—Ford, Chrysler and General Motors—have greeted Walter Reuther's profit-sharing plan with sharp words that amount to rejection.

A Ford spokesman called the plan unrealistic. General Motors President Harlow H. Curtsie said it was "foreign to the concept of the American free enterprise system." L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler, said it was inflationary.

Union Opposition Seen
For a different reason, the United Auto Workers chief also appears headed for opposition from within his own union.

The reason, says Carl Stellato, a UAW "minority" leader, is that Reuther turned his back on demanding a shorter work week in favor of trying for a profit-sharing plan this summer's bargaining.

Stellato, president of Ford Local in the UAW, said: "You can bet there will be plenty of opposition to the idea on the floor of the convention—and I'll be right there."

The UAW will convene Jan. 22 to give formal approval of the union's goals in 1958 bargaining sessions.

Blasts Reuther's Plan

Stellato, one of the chief opponents of Reuther in the 1½-million-member union, eyed the recent heavy layoffs in the auto industry and said: "Reuther's plan is going to give him more four-day work weeks than he wants—but they'll be the wrong kind."

Reuther's plan would give employees 25 per cent of a company's profits above 10 per cent of net capital before taxes. Another 25 per cent would go to car buyers in the form of rebates. The rest—50 per cent—would be kept by the company.

Reuther said wage increases—named no figure—also will be sought at bargaining sessions scheduled to start about April 1. Assembly plant workers now average about $2.40 an hour.

Deficit Spending Prospect Faced By Legislators

Congressmen Agree Ike's Fiscal Picture 'Anything But Bright'

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today asked Congress to boost the 275-billion-dollar limit on the national debt to 280 billion.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson asked the five-billion boost in letters to Democratic and Republican leaders of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees. Those are the committees which would handle such legislation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The spectre of deficit spending and continued high taxes haunted Capitol Hill today in the wake of President Eisenhower's peacetime record $73.900,000,000 federal budget proposal.

Congressional reaction, both public and private, was that the fiscal picture painted by the President in his annual budget message Monday was anything but bright. But Congress had not expected a rosy report in the light of current defense needs.

Congress Approval Seen

There was little doubt that Congress would approve all or most of the $73,900,000,000 outlay for the Defense Department. More argument was expected over non-defense spending proposals in an effort to widen the narrow gap between expected spending and expected revenue during the coming fiscal year.

Even as it put the finishing touches on an emergency $1,260,000,000 defense fund, a House Defense Appropriations subcommittee called hearings for Jan. 27 on the military budget for the year starting July 1.

Subcommittee Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) called the new military budget conservative insofar as ballistic missiles and other weapons of the future are concerned. It might even have to be increased, Mahon added.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) chairman of the Senate's Preparedness subcommittee,

Business On Upgrade, Chamber Speaker Says

"The economy of this country experienced a recession during the latter part of 1957 but it is now on the upgrade and the consumer spending will be back to par by the middle of the year."

This hopeful statement on the nation's economy was expressed by James M. Dawson, vice president of the National City Bank of Cleveland, in a talk before members of Chamber of Commerce in the Lape Hotel Monday noon.

Dawson, who has spoken before the Chamber for the past three years, predicted that business and consumer spending will get back on its feet in a few months.

Dawson in comparing the 1957 business recessions with the ones experienced in 1949 and 1954 says that there is no reason to think that the consumer spending will not rise this year as it did following the recession years listed above.

He illustrated his beliefs by pointing out that a survey taken in 1957 showed that 40 per cent of the working class of people in the United States said they expected a raise in salary during 1958. "If this is the case then how can we expect a decrease in spending," Dawson told the capacity group of 75.

He also declared that because of the missile development the government employment will go up again this year.

Dawson disagreed with the $74 billion budget proposed by President Eisenhower. "If the President's budget holds up I would suggest a tax cut but I don't think it will," he said.

Not only is the rate of employment going to rise from what it was during 1957 but the workers are going to receive higher wages than in the past Dawson indicated.

The new officers of the Chamber were introduced.

They are: Robert E. Hall, president; George Perrault, Jr., vice president; Curtis Vaughn, a second vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, secretary - treasurer; Castle M. Smith, executive secretary; and Glenn Harding and Milton Steiner, new directors.

Motorist Is Held For Manslaughter

Columbiana County Coroner E. R. Sturgis filed a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Howard Bauman, 29, of 124 E. Wilson St., Monday night after his car hit and killed Mrs. Laura C. Vollmer, 89, of 491 Woodland Ave. at the intersection of S. Lincoln Ave. and E. Pershing St. Sunday morning.

Bauman had pleaded guilty Sunday before Mayor Harold Smith to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian.

Mrs. Vollmer died of multiple internal injuries and severe shock. Bauman told police that the windshield of his car was smeared and fogged over and he did not see Mrs. Vollmer until the car hit her.

The men were on their way to attend the Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

Nation's Technicians Sowing Good Will

Point Four Program Builds U.S. Prestige

Editor's Note — All over the world, a small group of U.S. technicians is hard at work dispensing know-how and sowing good will. Despite isolated instances of friction, all signs point to their marked success on a crucial cold war front. This article is the first of a four-part series on the subject.

Women Voters Plan Tour of Infirmary

To enable members to visit the Columbian County Infirmary and the Valley Road Nursing Home, the Salem League of Women Voters will meet at the home of Mrs. G. E. Farrington of 525 S. Lincoln Ave. Thursday at 1 p.m. rather than in the evening as previously announced.

The tour of the infirmary and home, which will leave Farrington's at 1 p.m., will be arranged by Miss Edith Forbes, chairman of the League study on "Care of the Aged in Columbian County."

Members of her committee include Mrs. Henry Anderson and Miss Eve Butera.

Members wishing transportation should call Mrs. Lloyd Gordon, the membership chairman.

RUNAWAY BOYS FOUND

TOKO (AP)—Thomas Swires, 15, of Akron, Ohio, and Noel Zaloznik, 16, of Pottsville, Pa., sons of U. S. airmen stationed here, turned up in a home of an American family in central Japan today. Turned down in an attempt to join the Canadian Navy Thursday they had been the object of a wide-spread search.

In Iran, a Persian tribe, overwhelmed with gratitude, took a solemn oath to "protect Point Four and its people at all times." Once when the U. S. aid program was threatened, the tribe was ready to march on Tehran.

In Tunisia, a businessman pleads with the Americans to triple technical assistance.

In Paraguay, a farmer says he is proud that such a great power as the United States sends people to help his little country.

In the developing economic-political global war with communism, technical assistance may look like only a minor skirmish. But it is one field in which Americans have been successful, one field in which Americans have built up more gratitude than resentment. It has left a deep and lasting mark in many a struggling country.

Most people in the world's underdeveloped countries still refer to the U. S. program by its original name: Point Four. Now it's under the International Cooperation Administration.

The whole vast Middle East, a major theater in the political-economic contest between democracy and communism, is dotted with such so-called trivial projects. Local people don't think the projects are trivial.

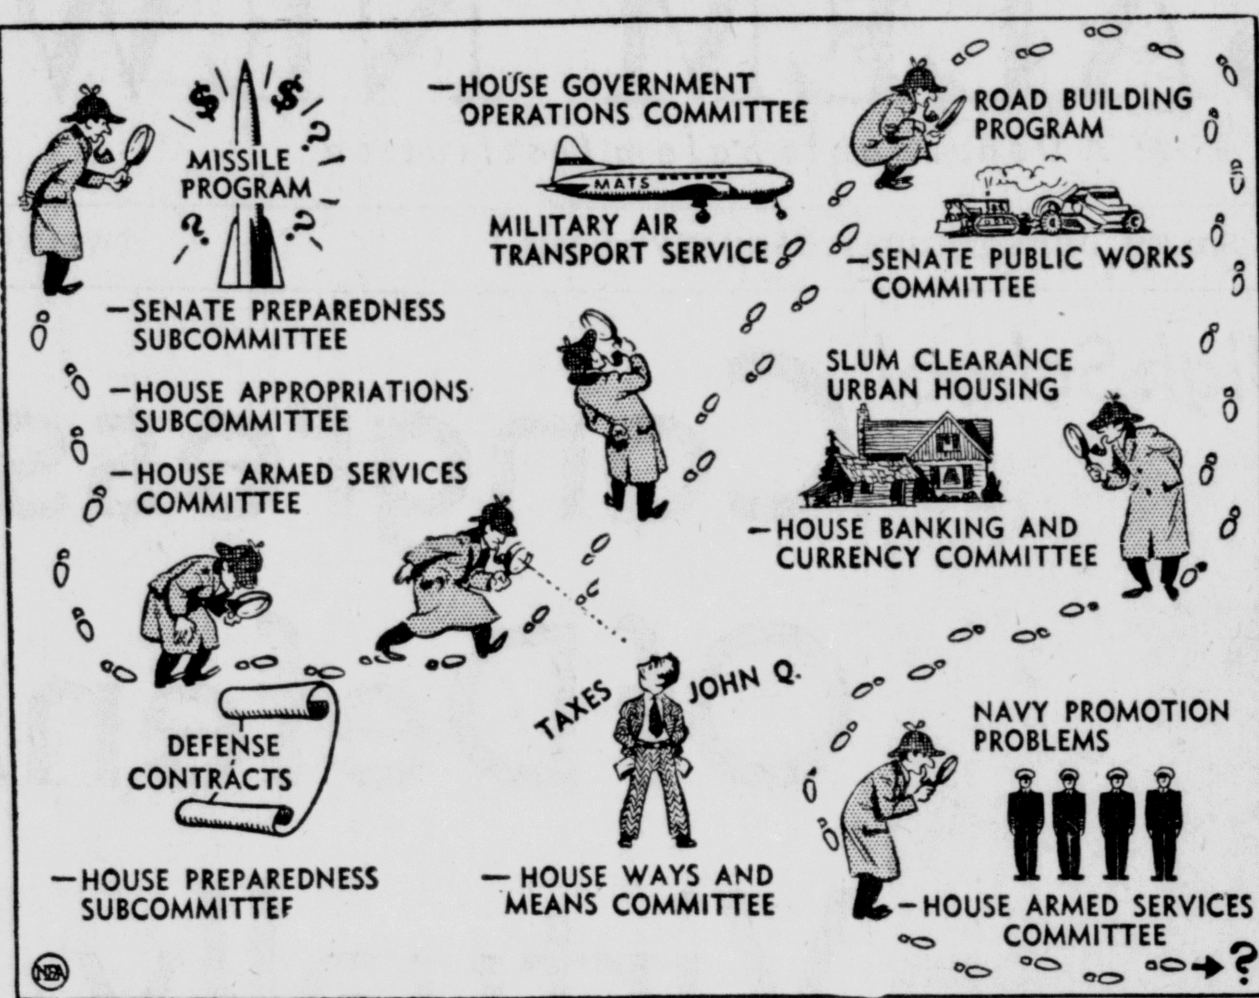

Today, technical assistance is a weapon whose potency has been newly recognized by the Russians. Iron Curtain technicians wait eagerly for a chance to supplant Americans in the underdeveloped world.

Quietly, without publicity fanfare, a little army of American technicians chalked up an impressive record as ambassadors of good will. It numbered only 2,961 in 1957. Before Congress this session will be a proposal to increase the number to 3,302, and to increase the annual budget by 20 million dollars to 150 million for operations in 57 countries in the next 18 months.

An Associated Press survey indicates however, that of all Americans abroad, the technical experts are the least resented. Indeed, in many places, they are highly popular.

The cry abroad is for more and better Americans.

Tomorrow—Asia wants Americans.

Venezuelan Leader Weathers New Crisis

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—President Marcos Perez Jimenez appeared today to have skinned through another crisis as he revamped his Cabinet for the second time in four days. But more street violence indicated Venezuela's troubles were not over.

Perez Jimenez changed three more Cabinet posts in the wake of his ouster from the Defense Ministry.

Meanwhile, police and troops scattered antigovernment student demonstrators in downtown Caracas with machetes and tear gas, demands for restoration of civil liberties increased.

The capital was under heavy guard. Police, troops, armored cars and tanks ringed the presidential palace. Inside the building soldiers patrolled the corridors with automatic rifles.

In the latest shakeup, Perez Jimenez switched Gen. Luis Felipe Llovera Paez from the Interior Ministry he took over last Friday back to his former post as communications minister. The interior job went to Antonio Perez Vivas, ex-governor of the Andean state of Tachira.

Gen. Nestor Prato was removed as education minister and given the key post of chief of the general staff. The education portfolio went to Dr. Humberto Fernandez Moraa, director of the Venezuelan Neurological and Brain Research Institute.

Perez Jimenez took over the defense ministry himself from Fernandez, who was reported to have plotted the President's overthrow.

Hail of Pistol Fire Wounds Wanted Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—A hail of pistol and shotgun fire early today cut down 21-year-old Albert Ray Amburgey, sought for questioning in a Columbus burglary.

Amburgey was shot and wounded critically by officers who sought to arrest him at his apartment.

Police said he ran for his car and officers, after ordering him to stop, opened fire when he put his hand in his pocket.

Officers said they found Amburgey had no gun. A small pistol was found in the apartment.

Starts As Director Of State Archives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bruce C. Harding has begun a job he says may not pay off for 10 years.

Harding is the new director of state archives. It's his job to whip into some kind of order all the state's historical documents housed at the Ohio State Museum on the OSU campus. The documents will eventually be moved to the new Ohio Archives Building, formerly the governor's mansion here.

The 32-year-old appointee says it will take at least six months to segregate just the most important documents. It may be 10 years before anything tangible results, he adds.

Harding has to examine and classify land ledgers, tax records, important letters written by state officials, letter written by governors' secretaries and a wide variety of other material.

The most important thing, Harding says "is to preserve the administrative history, so that if the current administration wants to make use of the documents, they can be made available."

THE COMMON COLD:

It Affects Us Economically

By W. W. BAUER, M.D.
Director of Health Education
American Medical Association

Colds cost the people of the United States, or any other country, enormous sums of money — but they are profitable to some. It depends on what your line of business may be.

No one knows, or probably ever can know, what the total national cost of the common cold actually may be. There are so many ramifications, and so many ways of arriving at an estimate. So let's not be too specific in terms of dollars, but look at some of the ways in which colds cost money.

They keep children out of school, and if this happens often enough, a child may lose a grade, setting him back a year and forcing the community to pay twice for his education during that time.

Spread from child to teacher, as often happens, the cold causes the teacher to stay home, use up his sick leave or perhaps to lose pay, as well as being put to expense for treatment.

The other children, even if they escape the infection, are inconvenienced by those who miss school and slow up the work of the class. The school system has to pay a substitute, as well as the teacher with sick leave privileges.

Production Slowed
In office or factory, the sweep of an epidemic of colds through personnel may seriously slow up production, especially if key workers are involved.

Absenteeism is increased; those who don't stay home are slowed up; accidents may happen to workers who are miserable and below par. Workers returning to the job only partially recovered are much below normal efficiency.

Business may be lost to competitors if an important person in an organization is sick with a cold. Sports contests may turn on whether one or the other competitor turns up with a cold on the day of competition. Transportation and shipment of goods is affected, as is every line of business.

The cost of the common cold to the United States alone has been estimated at between two and five billion — yes Billion — dollars.

Some years ago, when cold costs were estimated at one billion dollars — like everything else, the figure has been upped by inflation — the breakdown was: $420 million lost in wages and $500 million spent treating colds and their complications.

This took no account of the secondary losses in production and services, delays and inconveniences, and loss of business. The five billion estimate is probably as near right a one can get in estimating a disease for which all statistics are scattered, unofficial and subject to varying interpretations. Whatever the details, the cost is too much.

Only Advantage
The only economic advantages in the common cold accrue to those who make the products, or render the services, incident to treating colds and attempting to prevent them.

Cold victims, and those who fear they are about to join the procession, spend hundreds of millions of dollars for drugs and accessories, some legitimate, some wholly useless.

These include cold tablets, nose drops, nasal sprays (and atomizers to spray them), vaccines, vitamins, cough medicine, vaporizers, applications to rub on the skin, inhalants and inhalers, food-fad products — and who knows what?

The consumption of aspirin alone, straight, buffered, fizzing, and combined with other ingredients in shotgun preparations, is enormous. So is the use of disposable tissues, professional medical service is only a small fraction of this enormous sum, for few people go to a doctor for a cold.

No wonder that a foundation has been established to encourage research and spread information about colds. It will be worthwhile to spend millions in order to save

Tomorrow: What We Know About Prevention.

New Missile Program Agency Not Needed, Russell Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today a "two-fisted secretary of defense" can straighten out the nation's missile program without creating any new agencies.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, took issue with colleagues who have advocated reducing the power of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and placing the missile-satellite programs under a single head.

"All you need to get action now is a two-fisted secretary of defense who's not afraid to assume responsibility and has the President's support," Russell said.

He added in an interview he is "favorably impressed" so far by the speed with which Secretary of Defense McElroy has made decisions but isn't passing final judgment until more changes are made.

A new political storm clouded congressional consideration of how to put the United States in the lead in the race for rocket weapons and manned satellites.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, and House GOP leader, stirred up the storm by blaming former President Truman for any lag behind Russia in the development of missiles.

They spoke out in reply to Truman's statement in New York that he does not think Eisenhower is "a good policy maker nor is he a good budget maker."

In an unusual "public memorandum" addressed to Truman, the two Republicans said the nation had "rested on our oars during the lost years of your administration while the Russians went to work."

"If today we are behind the Soviet Union in some respects in the race to perfect the weapons of the future—guided and ballistic missiles—a considerable part of the blame lies on the doorstep of your administration," they said. In New York Truman first commented that the Republicans "always have to have somebody to pass the buck to." Later he added, "The facts are not as stated."

Knowland and Martin said when World War II ended, this country was the mightiest military nation in the history of the world.

"Yet five years later due to your policy of drastically cutting down the armed services, we were not ready for the Korean War," they said.

"Today, in contrast with 1950, we are ready . . . Our Strategic Air Command and the Navy's air power can deliver their devastating pay load to any point of the globe."

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee 1956 Democratic vice presidential nominee, fired back that "no amount of political statements or speeches will hide the facts."

"The facts are that the budget has been cut and cut during the Eisenhower administration, and research has been frustrated," Kefauver said.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee called for testimony behind closed doors from representatives of companies engaged in producing the Titan and Vanguard rockets.

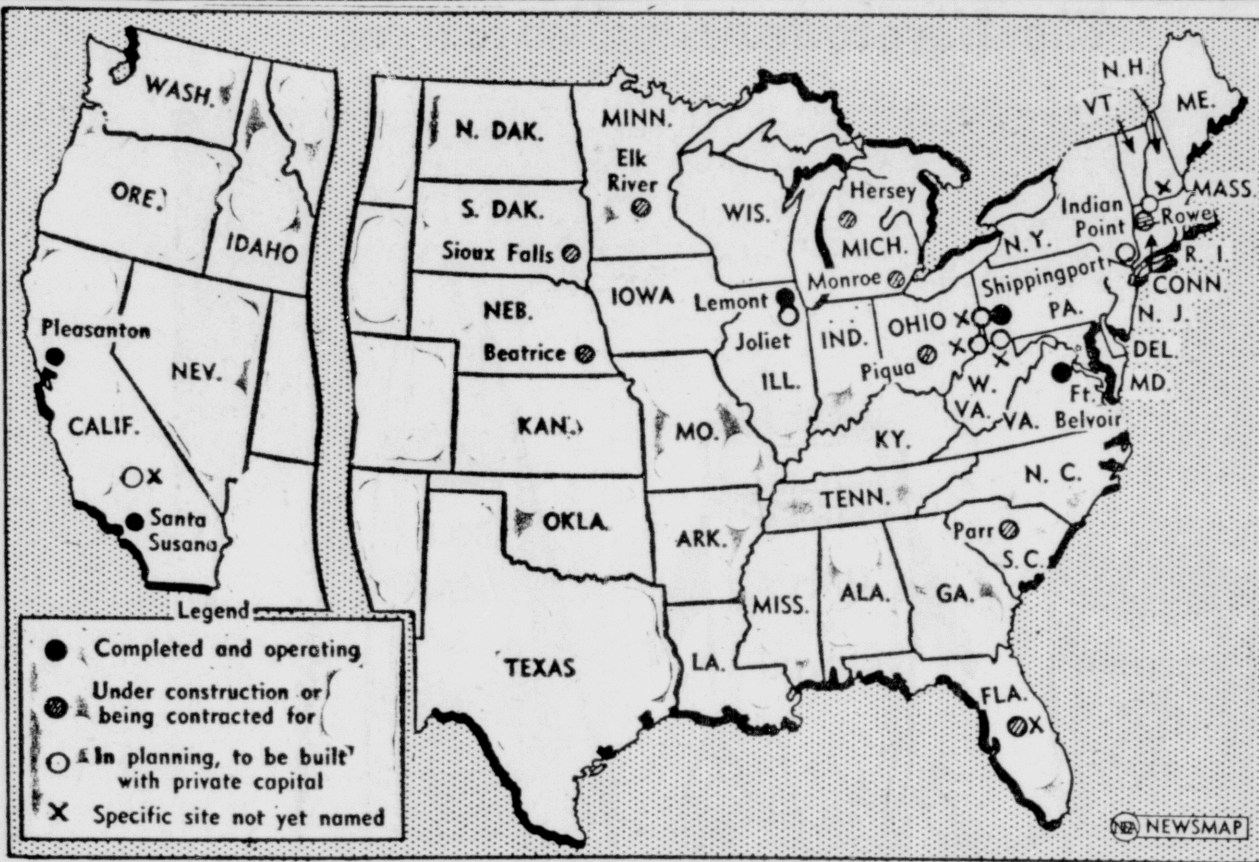

The subcommittee made public testimony Monday in which Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force ballistic missile division, said the present Thor missile can be improved so that it "can perform unmanned reconnaissance of the moon."

17-Year-Old Girl's Death Ruled Suicide

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Police listed as a suicide the death of a pretty, 17-year-old high school honor student who crashed her car into a pepper tree on the Los Gatos Road south of here Monday.

Authorities were puzzled as to what motivated Constance Chase, daughter of a wealthy Santa Clara contractor. They conceded it could have resulted from Los Gatos teen-age group discussions of the auto death of actor James Dean in 1955.

Friends said the girl was a member of a group which considered Dean's death as "glamorous." Her father M. L. Chase said Constance had seemed disturbed lately but he refused to accept the suicide verdict.

THE ATOM COMES OF AGE—The recent opening of the Westinghouse atomic electric power plant at Shippingport, Pa., put the spotlight on the growth of "atoms for peace." Newsmap shows five atomic plants now in operation, delivering civilian power. Nine more are now under construction or negotiating contracts. And seven plants, to be built by private capital without any direct government financing, are in the planning stage. In addition to those in this country, six other plants, to be supplied with nuclear fuel by the U.S., are under construction or being contracted for in Anchorage, Alaska; Belgium, Brazil, Cuba, Italy and Mexico.

WENT WITH A BOOM

SOUTH KINGSTON, R. I. (AP)—Police Sgt. Daniel Pucella bragged once his television set was nine years old and never had been repaired. "When it goes, I suppose it will blow up," he said at the time. It did. Firefighters confined the damage to the set.

NO SPECIAL WAY—Mrs. Louise Godejohann, most famous citizen of Olney, Ill., celebrated a special event on New Year's Eve—it was her 108th birthday. The oldest resident of Richland County, and one of the oldest in the entire nation, Mrs. Godejohann, unlike most others who have passed the 100 mark, has no theories as to why she has lived to be 108. Among her most treasured possessions are the letters she has received every year since her 100th birthday from President Eisenhower and former President Truman.

State School Board Elects Ironton Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education, beginning its third year, Monday unanimously elected Elliott E. Meyers, an Ironton attorney, president. Loren E. Souers Jr. of Canton was named vice-president, 17-4, after four ballots.

Meyers, elected for a two-year term, succeeds Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, who is not eligible to succeed himself.

Francis W. Spicer of Akron was the runnerup for the vice presidency. Souers, also an attorney, succeeds Meyers.

Gov. C. William O'Neill spoke early in the meeting and called it a "significant occasion."

"What we need most is improvement of quality of our education in all fields," he said. "The eyes of the people of Ohio are focused on you now more than they have been in recent history."

Chief Justice Carl V. Weyandt of the Ohio Supreme Court administered the oath of office to five board members re-elected last November and to two elected to fill vacancies.

America's Posture of Survival

President Eisenhower said plainly and powerfully in his opening message to Congress what it was his duty to say.

The United States, he told his countrymen and, incidentally, the members of Congress, has been challenged to prove what it can do in an all-out contest for survival in the 20th century.

It will rise to the occasion.

It will make sure of its military security by spending the money and the effort to offset the Soviet Union's rising power as a potential aggressor.

It will knock heads together in its military commands to minimize the throat-cutting that always goes on when new weapons and strategies are introduced. It took Billy Mitchell to make brass-bound diehards learn to live amicably with airplanes. It may take a couple of Mitchells and assorted Rickovers and Gavins to fit the rocket missile with its nuclear warhead into the defense establishment. But bickering does not command the tolerance of the former militarist who now sits in the White House. He intends to stop it.

This was his main part of what the President had to say, because the time was ripe for saying it. He voiced the consensus of his countrymen on the matter of military security.

THE REST of what it was his duty to say was not so obvious. But it was imperative that he say it, because the President of the United States is not only the commander-in-chief of the armed forces but also the maker of foreign policy, the chief executive of the nation and the voice of the national conscience.

The posture of defense that he described is not enough.

The United States must be militarily strong to deter attack through fear of counterattack. But its ultimate strength will not come from barren preparations to defend itself against an aggressor.

It will come from full development of all the nation's resources.

The posture of survival, American style, is symbolic of human dignity and resourcefulness.

It embodies all the qualities that made it possible for previous generations of Americans to survive threats that were far greater than those that exist today.

Mr. Eisenhower, in our judgment, was trying ing to say in tactful language to his countrymen what could have been said more bluntly:

In the name of your pride in yourself as a free man in a free country, straighten your shoulders and act like one.

The virtues that have given Americans the right to hold their heads high have not been altered by an unexpected triumph of science in the Soviet Union.

The grasp of industrial technology that has made Americans the pacesetters of the 20th century has not been broken because a rival has loomed on the horizon.

The torch that has been held high by the American republic for the guidance of all human beings who want to be free from despotism has not been extinguished by an oligarchy trying to enslave the world.

The United States aspires to make men free, not enslave them.

It wants to do this not because of some mystic motive of altruism but because it believes there is no better way to preserve freedom than to invest its resources in the freedom of others.

This country is still the guardian and trustee of the only truly revolutionary idea of the Christian era—that human beings everywhere can be governed best by consent and always will be governed badly by coercion.

Americans are not afraid of a showdown with anyone. They are volunteers in the age-old battle for survival. They have made more progress in their less than 200 years as a nation than their newest challenger has made in 2,000 years.

They have allies bound to them by faith in individualism, not by fear of collectivism.

They have learned how to free the spirit of man, not now to put it in chains.

We think this is what Dwight Eisenhower was saying in the restrained language expected of an American president reporting on the state of the union.

It is what he was expected to say. It is the message of his heritage as the citizen of the United States who has been chosen to speak in behalf of all of us.

He knows what the country's problems are, but it is his constitutional duty to say in behalf of all the rest of us what the means are for finding solutions.

In his subsequent messages to Congress, he will talk about the means in detail. The leader of the nation has asserted his leadership.

Why? Because it was suggested sublimally that he sit still and wait for the next program. That's just the way he is, and there is one of him for every sap who rushes down to the corner drug store and buys a jug of deodorant because the pitchman on TV said so.

Once-Around

Ohio's failure to get more than a respectful hearing in Washington for its proposal to draw its share of federal interstate highway money as fast as its road-building program can be put under contract is explained by a Commerce Department estimate that costs have gone up 10 billion dollars since the 41,000-mile interstate network was authorized.

The Bureau of Public Roads, which is under the Commerce Department, may be hard-pressed to cover scheduled payments. Ohio's proposal to draw funds in advance, to keep pace with its projects in the federal interstate system, has not been turned down flat. But it has been set aside until the bureau learns where it stands financially.

When the federal interstate plan was authorized by Congress in 1956, the estimated figure for its total cost was $27,645,000,000. The revised figure now is $37,622,000,000, reflecting not only increases in construction costs but additions to the original program.

No increases in taxes to underwrite the program are being considered now, although increases may be necessary when all the projects entitled to federal funds reach the construction stage.

Once Over

Under the spreading TV sets
The village smithy stands;
He thrives in California
With all those cowboy bands,
Where the horses are so plentiful
The smith needs extra hands.

His hair is crisp and black and long,
His face is like the tan;
The smith is "loaded" and you know
He needs no Marshall Plan;

DEPARTMENT STORES all over America got a certain kick out of high honors paid a big one last week. State and city officials and even President Eisenhower and a rival store lent a hand.

Department stores play a big part in the life of almost every community. But they don't get much credit, although they rate up with the theater, the museum, the art gallery and the "greatest show on earth."

You can get everything in them from pins and needles to bungalows and autos, and enjoy a fiesta or opera music without leaving the premises.

There is nothing quite like the American department store. Yet a country which is throwing banquets, anniversary parties and awards all over the lot only does them honor when they get to be 100 years old, which Macy's in New York just did.

IN COUNTLESS CASES all over the country the department store is a portrayer of the American success story the spinner of the rags to riches theme and the very symbol of high achievement from humble beginnings, often by penniless immigrants.

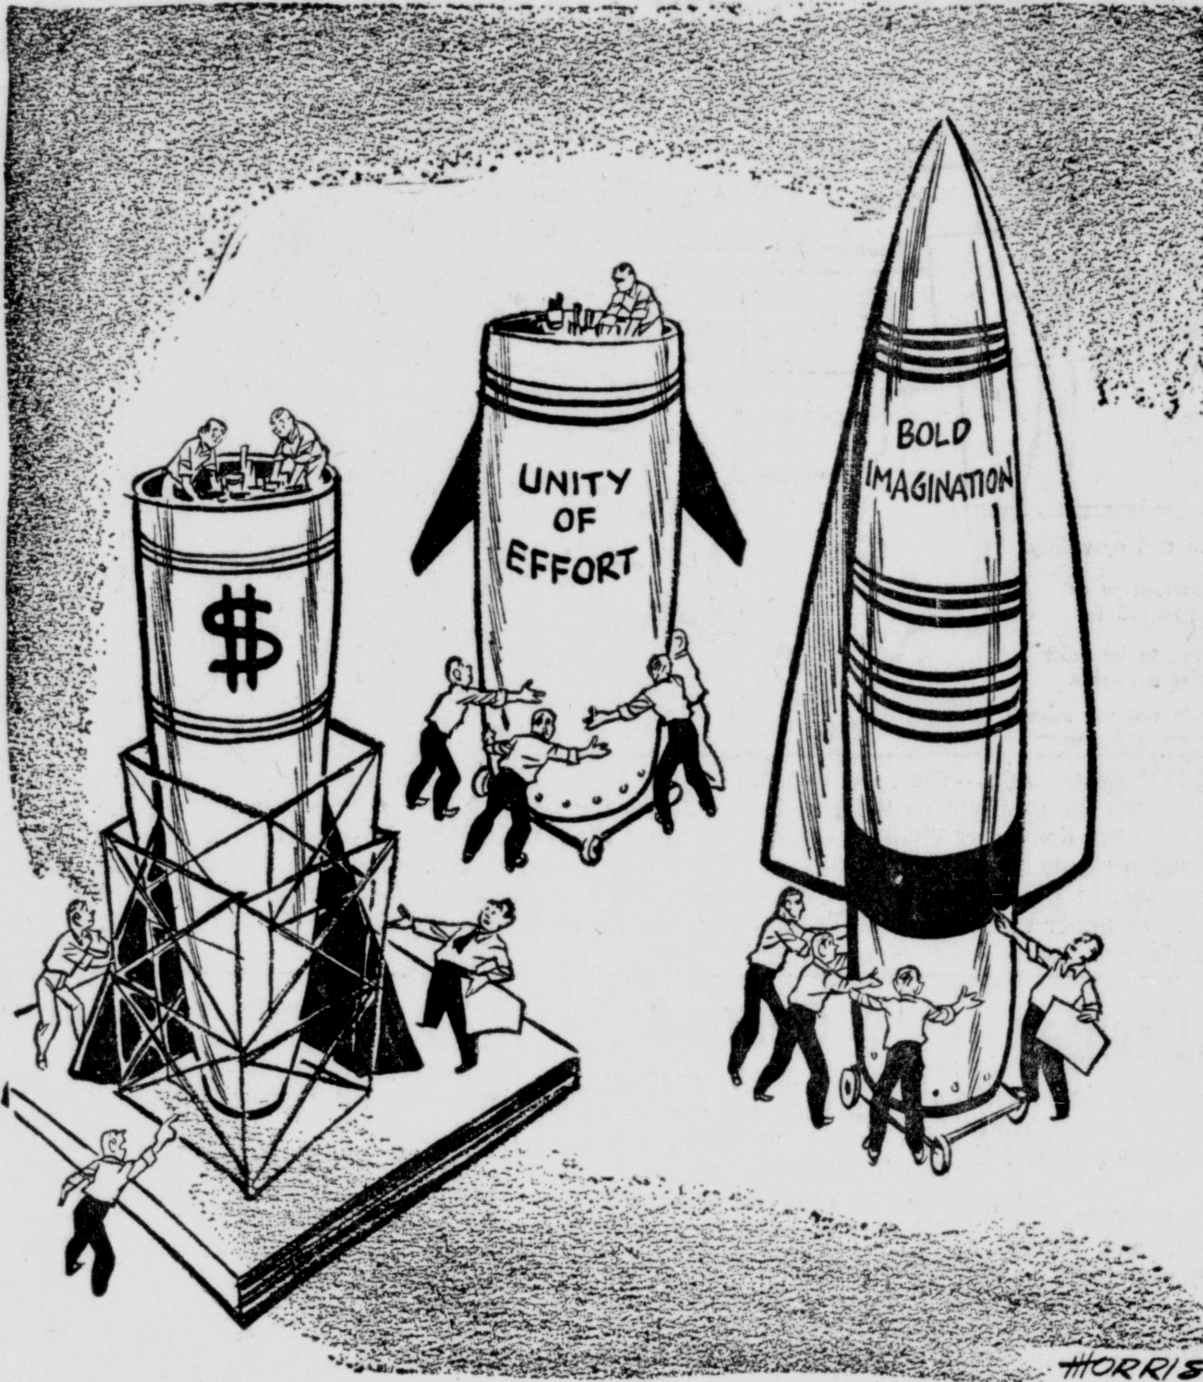

Millions of people have owned, or thought of "owning a store" at some time in their lives, even if it meant living in the back-room.

The department store is a symbol of independence. To us Macy's or any other store of its kind is not just a store, but the county fair, the "opry house," a carnival, a theater and the village square under a roof. We get a kick out of such a wonderland, even when we have to carry the bundles and get lost on the wrong escalator.

NEW YORK LEGISLATOR will fight for bill against "do it yourself" unassembled toys. Says it takes a top flight engineer to put together kids playthings and that after you succeed they don't work half the time. Many a father is still trying to find "Section G" and "Bend flat at Section K" two weeks after Christmas.

Easiest money for top golfers is found in the Saturday afternoon telecasts of twosomes. Winner gets $2,000, and loser gets $1,000, with $500 extra for an "eagle" and $10,000 for a hole in one.

Ike's Regular Pen-Pal

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian Premier Bulganin is getting to be a regular pen-pal of President Eisenhower. The President has been a little tardy in his correspondence. Over the weekend he made up for it. The result: still a standoff.

Bulganin wants a meeting of himself, Eisenhower and other heads of state. Eisenhower says he's willing but—It's a big but. The two men disagree on how to go about having the summit meeting.

The Russian proposed this big get-together in a letter to Eisenhower Dec. 10 and another Jan. 9.

The purpose: to try to settle the world's ills by disarmament and the stopping of nuclear tests, among other things.

Bulganin wants the talking to start at the top. The Russians have brushed aside the idea of preliminary talks in the United Nations. They've done the same to the suggestion that the foreign ministers meet first to arrange details.

And in all his talk—or letter-writing—about disarmament Bulganin says nothing about a fool-proof inspection inside Russia and this country to prevent cheating by either side.

Sunday Eisenhower answered Bulganin's Dec. 10 letter. It took him weeks to compose the reply but it had the effect also of answering the letter of Jan. 9.

Eisenhower said he's willing to meet with the Russians, but before there is such a gathering he wants the details of the discussion subjects worked out by experts on the various problems and by the foreign ministers.

Both letters—besides discussing the problems between the two countries—are meant as propaganda too. The people of not only the United States and Russia but of the rest of the world will be looking in on the correspondence.

Bulganin's Dec. 10 letter—very shrewd and well written—had a broad appeal because so many people, particularly in Europe, are anxious for some peaceful solution before there is war.

And Bulganin timed it for the moment calculated to do the most damage to the United States: just before Eisenhower went to Paris to talk with American allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His next letter—broadcast last Thursday—no doubt was intended to take the play away from Eisenhower, who on that very day delivered his State of the Union message to Congress. And in Europe he did offset Eisenhower.

But the President's reply was well done from the standpoint of trying to knock the steam out of Bulganin's proposals. The basic American position—one that both Eisenhower and President Truman followed—remains unchanged.

It's this: before this country disarms—or agrees with Russia to disarm and stop nuclear testing and so on—it wants to be sure through an inspection system that Russia can't run out on its agreement or plot war in secret.

Eisenhower laid down as the primary condition for any disarmament agreements that there be foolproof guarantees against cheating.

The next step seems to be up to Bulganin. He'll think of something, no doubt. Last week Secretary of State Dulles practically admitted in so many words Russia is doing a better propaganda job than this country.

Ike Calls Kremlin's Bluff in Letter to Premier

President Eisenhower has demolished the Soviet's tricky peace offensive. He has called the bluff of the Kremlin in one of the most effective pro-peace announcements ever made on the subject of "summit" conferences. It is a magnificent and non-aggressive statement.

The president's letter to Bulganin completely debunks the Soviet's alleged ploy on the matter of disarmament and peace. It sets forth in concrete terms the steps that will have to be taken before any "summit" conference could be worthwhile.

What Mr. Eisenhower does is to lay down the conditions for such a conference in terms so plain and explicit that, if the Soviets are sincere, they will welcome the proposals. Otherwise, they will stand convicted of insincerity and hypocrisy before the whole world.

The President, moreover, revealed the emptiness of the Soviet proposal for "summit" conferences so long as the United Nations organization is ignored, defied and denounced by the Communists. Mr. Eisenhower says, in effect, that if the Kremlin had respected the U.N. Charter, there would be no need today for any "summit" conferences and no necessity for a handful of bigwigs to try to settle the affairs of 80 nations.

THE PRESIDENT points out that an organization to enforce peace, with specific procedures to follow in every contingency, already exists but has been frustrated by the repeated veto of the Soviet Union in the Security Council.

The Eisenhower letter was prepared by the Department of State's experts headed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. It is a document that shows the result of meticulous research into the past pledges given by the Soviets that have been flagrantly violated. Putting it all together—starting with a discussion of the Yalta agreements that have since been broken—the letter to Bulganin is a state paper of transcendent importance in modern history. It will encourage free men everywhere, including the enslaved in Hungary and Central Europe, who still yearn for freedom.

"Peace and good will among men," says the President, "have been the heartfelt desire of peoples since time immemorial. But professions of peace by governmental leaders have not always been a dependable guide to their actual intentions."

The President traces in his letter the Soviet record and challenges the Kremlin to make good on its pledges and to give evidence of its sincerity.

He makes a host of far-reaching proposals—all the way from a cessation of testing of nuclear weapons and the abolition of stockpiles of bombs and missiles under a system of trustworthy inspection to the reunification of Germany and the holding of free elections in the captive countries.

WHAT THE President says may be summarized in this way:

"We are with you in principle in trying to find a way to disarmament and peace. Let's get together through the proper officials and see if there is any chance of agreement. If there is something specific worked out, some progress that we can see ahead of time, I'll go anywhere in the world to attend a "summit" conference or any other kind of conference to sign such an agreement. But there must be a reliable means of protection so that we shall know you will keep your word."

Most significant is the way the President emphasizes the difference between a free government and a dictatorship. He outlines how the people of the United States "exert such constitutional control over government that no government could possibly initiate an aggressive war."

THE PRESIDENT refrains from describing the operations of the dictatorship in Moscow and how it can suddenly plunge the people of the Soviet Union into war without their consent. But he does add the following reminder:

"The past 40 years provide an opportunity to judge the comparative peace records of our two systems."

The 40-year period goes back to 1917, when the Imperial German government made "scraps of paper" of its treaties of peace and started World War I. It takes us through 1939, when another dictatorship in Berlin did the same thing and provoked World War II. It brings us to 1950, when the Moscow government deliberately armed a puppet government in North Korea and, starting with a "surprise attack," conducted a war against the United Nations forces that almost became global. It carries us through 1956, when the Soviet tanks crushed the patriots in Hungary. It culminates in 1957 when the Soviets sent arms to stir up the peoples of the Middle East against one another.

MR. EISENHOWER'S letter is a milestone in the negotiating process. He scorns the private deal type of "summit" conference and calls for conferences step by step. Then, he says, a meeting by heads of state to ratify everything that has been done can be held.

This is the boldest challenge presented by the democracies of the world in the entire East-West struggle since the ending of world war II. It will rally the free world and should clear away once and for all any doubts about American leadership. Even in an age of missiles, America hasn't lost its perspective determination or its capacity for understanding deception and trickery in the guise of propaganda for a "summit" conference.

The Ups and Downs

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The ups and downs of the federal budget—mostly ups, it seems—mirror the military and economic history of the United States.

President Eisenhower sent to Congress Monday a budget of 73 billion dollars to meet the international problems and domestic needs of the coming fiscal year.

George Washington in the eight years of his administration got along on an average expenditure of 4 1/2 million dollars a year.

Besides the growth of population and changing standards of living other factors enter in.

Inflation takes a toll of the federal budget.

The nation has changed from an isolated entity to a world leader with a finger in almost every international problem.

People make more demands on government now, expect more services.

During the 12-year regime of Franklin D. Roosevelt, average expenditure soared to 31 billion dollars a year.

In postwar 1948 federal spending was 33 billion dollars. The Korean War and building up the nation's defenses in the cold war brought fiscal 1953's expenditures to 74 billion.

Federal budgeting has risen steadily to an estimated 72 1/2 billion dollars in the present fiscal year.

The federal debt has swelled, too. This year the treasury will pay out about eight billion in interest on the 275 billion dollar debt.

One of the problems in balancing both this and next year's budgets is that the recession is cutting profits and incomes—and treasury collections.

Guide for Missile Watchers

By DAVID L. BOWEN

AP Newsfeatures Writer
Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army Chief of Staff, commented a few days ago that within 30 years, Americans will think no more of missiles flying overhead than they do now of airplanes.

At the rate rocketeers are flinging the big birds into the sky from nesting pads on the sands of Cape Canaveral, Fla., the general's estimate is beginning to look conservative.

For those who find themselves muddled by the missiles suddenly sprouting headlines, here is a brief scorecard covering some of the most important missiles already in the American military arsenal or in advance stages of development. They are displayed in the chart at right, drawn to approximate scale.

SNARK: The first U.S. intercontinental missile to reach production, the Air Force's Snark has a range of 5,000 miles plus and will be assigned to the Strategic Air Command during 1958. In effect, it is a very fast, high flying, unmanned bomber. It must stay within the earth's atmosphere because of its air-breathing jet power plant, which makes interception possible.

FALCON: In production since 1955, the Falcon is an air-to-air missile guided to its target in one model by radar, in another by a heat-seeking device. It's in use by the Air Defense Command.

SIDEWINDER: As deadly as the desert rattlesnake it's named after, the Navy's air-to-air Sidewinder is literally guided up the tailpipe of its target by an infra-red or heat-seeking device. It's inexpensive, reliable and in use.

REDSTONE: The first successful large ballistic missile, the Redstone is an Army bombardment weapon with a range of 200 miles. It is operational and was an important step toward longer range ballistic weapons.

RASCAL: This cigar-shaped rocket is designed for use by B47 Stratofortress bombers seeking to void local anti-aircraft defenses. Carried to within striking distance by the mother plane, the Rascal speeds into the target on its own. It has been delivered to the Strategic Air Command.

DART: Easily the most peculiar looking missile now made, the Army's stubby Dart is only four feet long. It's for frontline use against tanks, and can deliver a powerful warhead with pinpoint accuracy.

THOR: One of the nation's two intermediate range (1,500 miles) ballistic missiles, the Thor has performed successfully in about half its tests. Developed by the Air Force, it will be used overseas within range of Russian targets when it becomes operational.

ATLAS: This is the ultimate weapon, a ballistic missile capable of spanning the oceans from one continent to another at speeds and heights making interception impossible with known equipment. The Russians reportedly have a missile of this class; Secretary of the Air Force Douglas has predicted the Atlas will be ready for combat use within two years.

NIKE: One of the earliest of guided missiles, Nike battalions are common near many large American cities. The missile is anti-aircraft and has undergone several model changes.

JUPITER: The Army's candidate in the intermediate range ballistic field, the Jupiter is the big brother to the Redstone. It has been ordered into production with the Air Force's Thor, even though — like Thor — it's development program is not yet complete.

TALOS: A versatile Navy weapon, the Talos can be used against enemy aircraft or for surface bombardment. It is in use by the Navy and may be employed in Continental Air Defense by the Army.

BOMARC: An anti-aircraft guided missile of extensive range, the Bomarc has successfully scored a kill on a target 100 miles from its launcher. It takes off vertically with rockets, then levels off and cruises to the target on twin ramjet engines.

CORPORA: Already deployed in Europe, the Corporal gives Army field commanders ability to strike at tactical targets 75 miles behind enemy lines. It can be armed with either atomic or conventional warheads.

TERRIER: A Navy anti-aircraft weapon, the Terrier is now operational aboard three warships and will be employed on 13 more vessels under construction or being converted. Range is about 10 miles. Loaded, trained and fired automatically, it is guided to its target by radar.

'Solution Is To Pray'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—David Selznick today offered Hollywood an answer to its problems.

"The solution is to pray," he said grimly.

The veteran producer feels too many movie makers still underestimate the extent of the revolution that free television inspired in the motion picture industry, and are unprepared for the next revolution — toll television.

Selznick, who turned out two of the alltime top 1 box office draws in "Gone With The Wind" and "Duel In The Sun," feels he has a candidate for his third academy award in "Farewell to Arms."

He spent $4,200,000 dramatizing the Ernest Hemingway classic — his first film in nine years — and he is confident it will be one of the greatest financial film successes of recent years.

"Increasingly, the future will lie in the big film," said Selznick, a big man fond of big gestures. "The economics of the industry has become such that it can't afford to make average pictures any more. They can't compete with free TV offerings."

"It isn't enough to say that bigness alone will do, however. There is a gigantic market for picture epics, but the mediocre product, large or small, no longer has a chance."

"The public is desperately anxious for what it wants to see — but what it wants to see is quality..."

"The next revolution will be pay TV, when a picture may take in as much as $10,000,000 in a single night. And theater owners instead of fighting pay TV as they did free TV, had better start moving in on it now to get their share. Otherwise, they'll suffer greatly."

Selznick, at 29, was executive vice president of RKO Studio and grinding out about a picture a week. He has made about 40 films since becoming an independent producer "after I decided the assembly line stuff was nonsense."

He says he now has two things in mind when he considers making a new film:

"First, will it have worldwide appeal. And, second, is something I can really do? You have to love something before you can do it well."

Selznick believes the public has

YOUR INCOME TAX PRIMER: Chapter One

It's Always Best to File Early

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service

In this age of incredible scientific advancements, and when it sometimes seems as though Russia has the jump on Uncle Sam, many people are asking, "What can I do to help?"

Not everyone can go to work on rockets. But everyone can help in one very important way — by doing his best to fill out his tax return correctly and by paying his share of the tax load.

A correctly filled out tax return can be processed quickly by Internal Revenue. A return with careless mistakes on the other hand, may take a trained expert many hours to straighten out — hours which could otherwise be spent in tracking down the dishonest taxpayer.

SO IF YOU WANT to help Uncle Sam and yourself at the same time, spend enough time on your tax return this year so that you have a return which can be processed quickly by Internal Revenue.

To help you fill out your return correctly, the Salem News is bringing you NEA's 17th annual Income Tax Primer. Its chapters are designed to help the taxpayer who wants to fill out his own return but who wants more explanations, tips, and step-by-step instructions than are provided in the official instruction booklet issued with the blank returns.

If you save each of these articles as they appear, you will find it much easier to fill out your return accurately. Although you have until April 15 to file a return, it is always advisable to fill out the return well before the deadline. Then if you have a refund coming, you can file early and stand a better chance of getting your money back quickly. Or if it turns out that you owe more tax, you have time to arrange for payment before the April 15 deadline.

EVERY CITIZEN regardless of where he is living and everyone else residing in the United States must file a tax return if his answer to one or more of the following questions is "Yes":

1. If you were 65 or over on Dec. 31, 1957, did you have income of $1,200 or more? YES — NO
2. If you were under 65 on Dec. 31, 1957, did you have income of $600 or more? YES — NO
3. If you were a self-employed person subject to social security tax, did you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more? YES — NO

IN DETERMINING whether your income exceeded the amounts shown in 1 and 2 above, you cannot first subtract nonbusiness deductions such as charitable contributions and taxes or interest on your home. For example, a student who earned $650 would have to file a return even though he contributed $60 of this amount to some charity.

Many students and others who work part time during the year do not earn enough to require filing a return.

If such persons had any income tax withheld from their salary, they should file a return even though they are not required to. Such persons owe no tax and are entitled to a refund of any that was withheld, but it will not be repaid unless a return is filed.

Next: Which form to use.

Shoup's Widow Files Suit For $364,800

ALLIANCE — This city's most prominent murder case in many years, the Eldon Shoup slaying, which occurred last Feb. 7, had repercussions here today with the filing of a $364,800 suit in common pleas court at Canton against three men connected with the case.

Mrs. Helen Shoup of 831 E. Ohio Ave., widow of the slain man, filed the suit for pecuniary loss by herself and her two minor children, Regina Ann, aged 2, and Eldon Peter Shoup, aged nine months as beneficiaries.

She named as defendants in the suit, Ray Paone of 1281 S. Mahoning Ave., Alliance, Paul Carpenter of the Summit Council jail, Akron, and Arthur LaRiche, now in the state penitentiary.

The suit summarizes the acts committed by the three defendants before and leading to the killing of her husband at the home of Frank (Red) Wells, 2815 Ridgewood Ave., on Feb. 7.

Carpenter, 27, in Akron, confessed to murder and has been indicted for the slaying and burglary. He awaits trial. LaRiche, 39, of Elyria, indicted on similar charges, is in pen for an Akron crime. Pleone, 37, indicted only on breaking and entering, is free on $10,000 bond.

Ohioan Is Named Science Adviser to State Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has selected a 57-year-old chemist to help its campaign to match Soviet science and technology.

"My feet are already under the desk," Dr. Wallace R. Brode told reporters Monday minutes after his swearing in.

Dr. Brode, a chemistry professor at Ohio State University from 1928 to 1948, is the new science adviser in the State Department. The post has languished, unfilled, for two years, partly because of U. S. smugness over being the No. 1 scientific country in the world, partly because of a desire to keep the budget well trimmed.

Russia's Sputniks changed that an old U. S. program was revived, scientific attaches in U. S. embassies abroad.

Brode said his first task will be to organize a staff in the State Department to help him in his $16,000-a-year job. After that, he said half a dozen science attaches will be sent abroad—as soon as they can be located in universities and elsewhere in the country.

Brode is a native of Walla Walla, Wash. He calls Columbus, Ohio, his home, but he maintains a residence in the nation's capital, where he is associate director of the National Bureau of Standards in the Department of Commerce.

Testimony Continues In $25,519 Damage Suit

LISBON — Testimony continued today before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp in a civil suit for $25,519 as an aftermath of a traffic collision Aug. 12, 1955 in East Liverpool.

Elizabeth Pearl Jones of Lisbon asks that amount from the DeLong Trucking Company of Bedford, Pa. Mrs. Jones claims her car was struck from the rear by a DeLong truck causing her to suffer personal injuries and property damages.

The jury includes: East Liverpool, David Dots on; Wellsville, Thelma Miller, Lyda Rowen and Virginia Gitscher; Salem, Harry Abrams, Doris Krohne, RD 4, Vivian Wilt, RD 5; Lisbon, Doris Brown, RD 1; Hanover, Ernest Moser; Salineville, Helen Starkey; East Palestine, Dewise Alkorn; Beloit RD 2, Claude Berger. Evelyn Houger of Salem is the alternate.

Agriculture Council Hears Union Officer

LISBON — The policies and programs of labor unions were discussed at the meeting of the Columbiana County Agriculture Council at the New Garden Methodist Church Monday evening by John Kelly of Lisbon, a candidate for state representative.

Kelly is executive county secretary of American Federation of Labor and CIO Council, as well as an officer in building trade council.

Carl K. Miller, Leetonia, council president, presided. The next meeting will be held in St. George's parish hall in Lisbon, Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. It will be a public meeting sponsored by the council to discuss the relation of the water situation to the industrial and agricultural development of this area.

It is expected that Herman "Cy" Wellman, who has been on the force about two years, will be laid off.

E. G. Heilbronner, secretary to the mayor, is handling the village street department workers.

$110,843 Fund Measure OK'd

A temporary three-month appropriation was passed by Council:

General fund $4,740; safety fund $14,500; service fund $21,260; street maintenance and repairs $12,500; state highway improvement fund $750; water fund $16,500; sewer fund $17,000; general bond retirement $7,313; special assessments bond retirement $1,230; cemetery fund $7,500; cemetery endowment $4,000; John H. Clarke $800; swimming pool operation $2,750; grand total, $110,843.

County Judge Samuel Crawford requested a special parking place near Heim building where he holds court, but Council refused his request, saying that no special parking space was given to common pleas court judges.

Harold Hiscoc of Columbiana, Lisbon Road requested Council to put a fire hydrant near the village garage.

Chief Pike was authorized to get the police cruiser washed each Sunday.

Firemen requested information on what to do with volunteer members who have resigned about getting their equipment back that they were issued by village when they join the department. Council authorized secretary of fire department to write a letter to the former members and if articles were not returned council would take further action.

A request by Mike Gerrick for a street light on the North Park plat was referred to the lighting committee.

Defense

promised a careful look to "determine whether it is adequate to strengthen the nation's security."

The general attitude among the legislators appeared to be that so far as security is concerned, the sky is the limit.

As Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the full House Appropriations Committee put it: "All of the increase for national defense is fully justified and will have the support of Congress."

There was some skepticism over Eisenhower's estimate that despite heavier defense spending, the budget would be in balance when the year ends and the Treasury would show a surplus of half a billion dollars.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Senate Finance Committee called the new budget "reckless" and "likely to lead to substantial deficit spending with all of its evil consequences."

Rep. Reed of New York, senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, also called the estimates of receipts "somewhat optimistic."

As for the President's request to boost the rate for mailing out-of-town letters from 3 to 5 cents, Chairman Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Post Office Committee called it "too much." The House last year reluctantly voted to increase the rate to 4 cents.

Little was said about the President's request for an unspecified increase in the legal limit of the national debt, but in the main the legislators were resigned to approving the request as quickly as possible rather than delay it until just before this year's congressional elections.

chairman, said the union's proposal would be given "weighty consideration" but he said the plan was "unrealistic."

Curtis said, "It is unfortunate that these extravagant demands should come at a time when public confidence needs to be re-affirmed as a basis for an upturn in the economy."

"The chances would vastly improve if, instead of announcing such extreme demands, the union would base its bargaining objectives on the economic realities the nation faces today, not only here at home but abroad," Curtis said.

Colbert said Reuther "proposes, in effect, to fight inflation by making a whole series of new inflationary demands upon the automobile industry."

No Immediate Comment

American Motors Corp. and Studebaker-Packard Corp. had no immediate comment under their present profit position, neither would be affected by profit-sharing.

Reuther, when asked about dropping the four-day week issue, said: "You will notice I have not been beating the drums (for the shorter work week) since the first Sputnik went up."

Salem Is Tied For 11th Place In First Weekly AP Poll

Three District Schools Listed In Top 10; Middies Hold Lead

The Salem High cagers, riding the crest of a seven-game winning streak were in an 11th place tie with Columbus East today in the first weekly AP poll of Ohio's scholastic basketball powers.

The Red and Black received a total of 34 points from the 26 sports editors, 19 from newspapers and seven from radio-TV stations, that participated in the balloting.

Middletown's Middies, winners of 63 in a row are atop the perch, having received 14 first place ballots or a total of 238 votes. They have an 11-0 record and battle second place Hamilton tonight in a clash of the unbeaten. Hamilton is 8-0.

Three district schools are in the top 10. Canton McKinley is seventh, Youngstown South is eighth and Canton South tenth.

Other neighboring quintets in the poll include Youngstown Caney, tie for 14th with Lima, and the Poland Bulldogs, who are in undisputed 20th place.

Ashland, one of the Quaker opponents later in the season, is in 19th position, one point ahead of Poland. Akron St. Vincent another foe, is tied for 28th place with Steubenville and Cincinnati Hughes.

The top 10 teams, besides the ones already mentioned, are Zanesville, third; Cleveland East Tech, fourth; Toledo Scott fifth; Columbus North, sixth; and Toledo Macomber, ninth.

The rankings are as follows:

TEAMS	Pts.	Won	Lost
Middletown (14)	238	11	0
Hamilton (1)	125	8	0
Zanesville (0)	110	10	0

Fight Picked As 'Sports Oddity of Year'

By The Associated Press

On June 19, 1957 a Seattle promoter revealed that Floyd Patterson and Pete Rademacher had been matched for a title bout.

Today, the pairing of the heavyweight boxing champion of the world and an Olympic titleholder who never had fought as a professional was tabbed as the sports oddity of the year in the annual Associated Press year-end poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Many of the experts who had labeled the match a farce had to eat their words.

Rademacher, put up a surprisingly stiff fight, flooring Patterson before the champ rallied to win on a sixth round knockout.

Still, it went into the books as a unique get-together. For never in boxing history had an Olympic champion fought for a world crown in his first pro outing.

There were, of course, many other oddities in sports besides boxing and these, too, received solid support. Among them was the misjudging of the Ken-Williams Derby finish line by jockey Willie Shoemaker. Willie, it will be recalled, eased up on Gallant Man and lost by a whisker to Iron Liege.

Wilt Is Back; Kansas Again Is Winner

By The Associated Press

Wilt the Stilt is back and Kansas is a winner again in college basketball.

It was as simple as that. The Jayhawks fell from the unbeaten list—and slipped from second to third in The Associated Press poll—with two-point defeats in two games while Wilt Chamberlain was ailing on the sidelines. But Monday night Wilt was back, playing the whole game and scoring 32 points as Kansas whipped Colorado 67-46 in a Big Eight game. Chamberlain's 32 points weren't enough to get back his lead in the individual scoring race, however.

Oscar Robertson was at it again for Cincinnati, canning 37 points as the fifth-ranked Bearcats ripped Houston 93-57 in a Missouri Valley Conference meeting.

Oscar, with 123 points in his last against Seton Hall, has a 32.7 average for the 11-2 Bearcats. Chamberlain has a 32.2 average for Kansas, also 11-2.

Only two other members of this week's top 10 were in action Monday night. Ninth-rated Kentucky (11-3) defeated Tulane 86-50 to stay unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference; and Bradley (9-1), No. 10, remained undefeated in Missouri Valley competition with an 85-58 job on North Texas State.

Mississippi State, No. 11, lost its second in a row, this one 74-62 to Vanderbilt in the SEC. Tennessee (10-1), rated 13th, wallowed Louisiana State 75-53 in another SEC game, while Oklahoma (9-3), rated 14th, fell out of the Big Eight lead with a 57-54 defeat by Nebraska.

In the Southwest Conference, first-place Arkansas held Texas Tech scoreless in the last two minutes for a 58-55 decision. Texas as Christian crushed early-favorite Rice 92-68, and Southern Methodist breezed past Texas 82-68.

COURT FIGHT—Police had to restore order when a free-for-all interrupted the basketball game between the Detroit Pistons and the Hawks in St. Louis. Coach Alex Hannum grabs snarling Slater Martin, left, as he uncorks a punch at a hidden visitor. Jack Coleman and Ned Park of the home club hold Sweetwater Clifton, foreground. Two players were ejected.

Score 2 Wins Over Weekend

Mighty Middletown Middies Run Undefeated String to 63

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Middletown's mighty Middies, winners of the state Class AA basketball championship the last two years, are still Ohio's cage kings.

Coach Paul Walker's classy crew, headed by fabulous Jerry Lucas whose grades are as high as his 6 foot 10 pate, today won the season's first Associated Press sport writer's poll in a landslide.

Over the weekend the Middies whipped Springfield, 83-51, and Lima, 67-54. Those two conquests: Boosted Middletown's season record to 11-0.

Ran the Middies' undefeated string to 63 over three campaigns. And set the stage for Friday night's climactic contest with second place Hamilton (8-0) in Cincinnati Gardens before some 10,000 fans.

Lucas, who holds every record in state tournament play, was held to a single free throw in the first period against Springfield, but had scored 30 at the finish.

Against Lima, where he was surrounded by six-foot-plus opponents, he wound up with 16 points—the lowest he's ever scored while going the entire route. Lima also held him a full quarter—the third—to a single free throw. Hamilton last year held the big boy scoreless in one quarter.

The tall youngster, being wooed by more than 100 colleges, ran his 11-game scoring record to 325 points in the two weekend tilts, an average of 29.5—some what off his lifetime average. He's never played in a losing game in junior high or high school, and in the 63-game winning streak as a varsity member he's flipped 1,985 points through the hoop—an average of 31.5.

Back of Middletown and Hamilton, the perennial Butler County powerhouses, is unbeaten Zanesville, winner of 10 in a row. Next in line are Cleveland East Tech, Toledo Scott, and Columbus North, all with unsullied records. Then

Erdelutz Says He's 'Free To Drop Anchor'

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Navy's Eddie Erdelutz, latest big time football coach to cruise to the Texas W&M campus, said he's free to drop anchor if he is offered the Aggie post today.

But about the only other positive fact to emerge from a flurry of developments Monday was that Erdelutz has a return trip airline ticket to Annapolis.

Jim Myers of Iowa State, the top prospect before Erdelutz was secretly interviewed by A&M representatives, was jettisoned Monday, leaving Erdelutz the only coach under consideration.

Paul Bryant left A&M to return to his alma mater, Alabama. The Dallas News said Myers never gained approval of the college board of directors.

Cincinnati Rips Houston 93-57

Steubenville Rolls Over Youngstown

By The Associated Press

Home teams had a field day Monday. All of them, in five basketball games involving Ohio college teams, coasted to victories.

Ohio State, which has discovered that height isn't everything in basketball, dropped its ninth game in 11 starts (two out of three in the Big Ten), this time losing to Mich.

The real scoring, however, remained with the Cincinnati Bearcats and Oscar Robertson. The Bearcats dumped Houston 93-57 and Robertson, the nation's leading scorer, got 37. The Missouri Valley Conference game was played in the Queen City.

The Cougars kept pace with Cincinnati (11-2) throughout the first half, but the Bearcats went on scoring sprees in the second period that Houston could not match. At one point Cincinnati racked up 18 straight points before Houston could tally.

Robertson's efforts weren't limited to scoring. Oscar teamed up with last year's Bearcat scoring champion, Connie Dierking, to split 30 rebounds.

Elsewhere, Steubenville, the state's winningest cage team, made it No. 15 for the year with an 85-57 sweep of Youngstown. The Barons have lost only one game.

Youngstown is now 10-3.

John Carroll extended its winning streak to three games as it defeated Fenn College, 91-72 in Cleveland.

John Stavole paced the Blue Streaks' scoring with 35 points. Fenn's John Harper had 25 and Bob Kulsis added 22 more for the losers.

Central State went to Anderson, Ind., to make up a game which was postponed Dec. 3 and lost, 100-70. It was Central's sixth loss in eight starts.

Cabas Will Conduct Cage 'Open House'

Salem high school basketball coach John Cabas will conduct an open house at the high school gym at 7 p.m. Wednesday. The public is invited to attend the event. Cabas will demonstrate latest rule changes and some of his coaching methods.

The open house will take the place of this Thursday's Booster Club meeting originally scheduled for the Memorial Building at 7:30 p.m.

Reds' Training Camp Awaits Imposing Array of Rookies

NEW YORK (AP)—A flock of minor league all-stars, a batting champion and a couple of sought-after bonus boys head an imposing array of rookies who will merit attention in the Cincinnati Redlegs' Tampa Fla. training camp next month.

In addition, manager Birdie Tebbetts will have a first hand look at a couple of "warmed over" rookies such as first baseman Steve Bilko and pitcher Bob Kelly, who are back for another big league trial after outstanding seasons in the minors.

Bilko comes back after two fence-busting seasons at Los Angeles. Stout Steve slugged 56 home runs last year, drove in 140 runs and totaled 353 bases on a .300 batting average.

In 1956, Bilko wound up with a .360 average 55 home runs and 164 RBIs but a $200,000 price tag scared off all interested parties. The Reds paid considerably less for him last October.

Kelly, a 30-year-old righthander, who had previous trials with the Chicago Cubs as well as the Reds, posted a splendid record with Nashville last year. He topped the Southern Assn. with 24 victories and led the league in complete games with 22, innings pitched with 259, and had a 3.34 earned run average.

The Redlegs are hopeful that Stan Palys, another re-conditioned rookie, who had a previous trial with the Philadelphia Phillies, will supply the righthanded punch the team lost when it traded Wally Post to the Phils last December.

Palys, a 27-year-old outfielder, enjoyed a standout season with Nashville. He paced the circuit in batting with .359, in slugging with .593 and in runs scored with 116. He also was among the leaders with 24 home runs, 112 runs batted in, 93 walks, 295 total bases and 34 doubles.

The Reds painfully weak on the mound last year, have added a dozen new pitchers in an attempt to strengthen the staff. The best looking newcomer may be Charlie Rabe, who had a fine year at Seattle. The 25-year-old left-hander, after a bad start in which he lost four of his first six decisions, ran up a string of 36 1-3 scoreless innings, including four shutouts and eight victories, to finish with a season record of 16-10 in the Pacific Coast League. He made one start after joining the Reds in September and lost 2-1, allowing five hits, walking none and striking out six in seven innings against Milwaukee.

Wolverines Roll Over Ohio State

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan's balanced scoring attack proved the difference in a rough Big Ten basketball game here Monday night. The Wolverines whipped Ohio State, 72-63, in the final 10 minutes after the lead changed hands 15 times.

Two players—Michigan's George Lee and Ohio State's Ken Sidle—were ordered from the game with eight minutes left after a brief rough-house.

Lee tied teamed with Pete Tilton, the game's high scorer, and M. C. Burton, whose two free throws put Michigan ahead to stay, to give a demonstration of balanced scoring that the visiting Buckeyes could not match.

Frank Howard and Joe Carlsson scored 14 points apiece for Ohio State, which dropped its second Big Ten game in three days. Michigan is now 3-1.

Geoffrion Paces Canadiens To Win

MONTREAL (AP)—Bernie Geoffrion, whose thunderous shots echo around the National Hockey League, is the latest threat to the scoring leaders.

The burly right winger for the Montreal Canadiens, who missed five games at the start of the season when laid low by Asian flu, scored five goals and collected three assists last week to move from fifth to third place.

Geoffrion's eight-point production gave the Canadiens 1-2-3 billing in the league's official statistics released today.

Dickie Moore, with two goals and four assists last week, remains on top with a total of 51 points. Henri Richard came up with one goal and four assists and held second place with 49 points.

The Cincinnati Redlegs set a major league record for pinch home runs in 1957. They hit 12.

Kansas State Is Second

Powerful West Virginia Still Top Cage Team in Nation

Powerful West Virginia, one of the few unbeaten major college teams, remains No. 1 for the fourth successive week in The Associated Press poll.

Sports writers and sportscaster voting in the poll gave West Virginia 69 of the 104 first-place votes. No one else was close.

The Mountaineers romped over George Washington Saturday for their 12th consecutive victory and 28th in a row in the Southern Conference.

On a basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second and so on, West Virginia amassed 941 points. Second-place Kansas State, with only four firsts, had 590 points. Kansas was right behind with 586 points for third place and six firsts.

Kansas State (11-1) added victories over Minnesota and Nebraska during the week. Kansas (10-2) lost its only start to Oklahoma.

The poll included games through Saturday.

Although San Francisco had nine first places second only to West Virginia, it finished fourth with 532 points after a week in which the Dons whipped Santa Clara and College of the Pacific.

Fifth-place Cincinnati bowed to Oklahoma State last week, then poured it on to swamp Seton Hall and finished by running up 127 points against North Texas.

The North Carolina team that bowed to Maryland 74-61 for its second time in two years dropped from third to sixth place.

Oklahoma State advanced to seventh place. Maryland took 11th. Kentucky clung to ninth by whipping Vanderbilt and Louisiana State, and Bradley held 10th by taking two from Houston.

Previously unbeaten Mississippi State tumbled from fifth to 11th after losing to Georgia Tech.

The standings, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. West Virginia (69)	941
2. Kansas State (4)	590
3. Kansas (6)	586
4. San Francisco (9)	532
5. Cincinnati (6)	529
6. North Carolina (1)	421
7. Oklahoma State (2)	389
8. Maryland (4)	307
9. Kentucky	264
10. Bradley	253

Outdoor Safety Campaign Mapped By Aroused Texans

By The Associated Press
Few except maybe a sportsman or two would challenge the Texas tradition of doing things in a big way—even things that Texans themselves would prefer to be a bit modest about.

Take recreational casualties for instance: In one year Texas found 329 persons killed in water accident and 169 persons shot to death in firearms accidents for a total of 498.

Now, however, Texans are cloudbursting to storm all over the unhappy record, and traditions being what they are, those concerned with outdoor safety elsewhere might keep an eye on the operation.

When it comes to organizing safety programs, a number of states already are busy, and some have been at it long enough to show substantial gains.

For instance, Nevada and Oregon adopted uniform boat codes some time ago, and similar safety regulations either have been adopted, recommended or studied prior to recommendation by at least 10 other states. Congress also is expected to make another pass at the uniform small boat code problem this session.

On gun safety, California and New York are leading the way with compulsory education of youngsters, and California nearly halved its juvenile accident rate last year. Several other states have voluntary programs.

The Sportsmen's Club of Texas, the organization through which aroused Texans stood up and took charge of various outdoor problems in spectacular fashion during the last legislature, has huddled with Gov. Price Daniels to set up a governor's conference on boating and firearms safety.

Cecil Reid, SCOT's executive secretary, was appointed chairman of an organizational committee by the governor. The Game and Fish Department, the Department of Public Safety and the Health Department were directed to name representatives. Reid asked the National Rifle Assn., the Outdoor Boating Club, the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs to join in on the committee.

And the approach to the public will be a general one, Reid says, emphasizing efforts to enhance enjoyment of the outdoors rather than on scare messages.

Maybe there's a hint, already, on a Texas-style operation.

Indiana Romps Past Minnesota

Northwestern Nips Iowa In Overtime

By The Associated Press
The Big Ten basketball campaign opened 10 days and 16 games ago. Today, not a single team remains undefeated.

Minnesota, the last of the unmarked, stumbled before Indiana Monday night as the Hoosiers climbed into a first place tie with Michigan.

Indiana romped past Minnesota, 85-64, while Michigan measured Ohio State, 72-63, in a pair of home-court victories.

Northwestern nipped Iowa 82-80 in overtime, and Wisconsin edged Illinois, 71-70 at Champaign.

Jerry Thompson netted 24 points and Archie Dees, the Big Ten's leading scorer, added 22 in leading the Hoosier rout. It was Indiana's third conference triumph in four games, all scored on the Hoosier home court. George Kline scored 20 points for the Gophers who never threatened after the early minutes of play.

Michigan overcame a two-point Ohio State halftime lead and defeated the Buckeyes going away. Pete Tillotson again headed the Wolverine attack. Tillotson tossed in 18 points while three other Michigan players scored in double figures.

Frank Howard and Joe Carlson had 14 points each for the fading Buckeyes who have won but 2 of 11 games all season and now have a 1-2 conference record.

Northwestern and Iowa produced one of the season's most thrilling games. The title-minded Wildcats posted their second triumph in three games and their first away-from-home Big Ten victory in three years by coming from behind after blowing a 10-point lead.

Iowa managed to tie the score and went ahead by four points before Nick Mantis scored a basket and a pair of free throws to tie the score. Northwestern gained possession and took a final shot but missed and regulation play ended with the score 74-74.

Phil Warren missed the vital shot but scored in the final seconds of the overtime for the triumph which pushed the Wildcats into third place.

Wisconsin avenged an earlier loss to Illinois and dumped the height-lacking Illini into the conference cellar on Walt Holt's basket with seconds of play left.

Wisconsin led through most of the game only to see Illinois spur in front in the final minutes. Holt also connected for a basket to put Wisconsin within range of the victory. Holt was high for the Badgers with 20 points but Illinois Don Oll led all scorers with 22.

Schools To Observe New NCAA Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high schools will disregard a national high school association's ruling and play football next fall under new NCAA scoring rules.

Sunday, the NCAA changed the extra point rule to two points for a conversion scored by passing or a dropkick or placekick.

H. V. Porter of Chicago executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Assns., said high school teams would not observe the rule change.

In Columbus, however, W. J. McConnell, assistant commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., said Ohio high schools would abide by the NCAA system.

"We are members of the National Federation but we do not use the National Federation rules in Ohio," McConnell said. "With the exception of the substitution rule, we follow the NCAA code."

"That means we'll award two points for the run or pass conversion, one for the kick. We have always followed the rule book and if the new rule is in the NCAA book that's the way we'll play it."

Frick Still Opposes Telecast of Games

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today he has not altered his opposition to plans of six major league clubs to televise Sunday games next season. He said it would hurt minor leagues.

"I think it's a shame" he said as he waited to talk over baseball's TV controversy with congressional antitrust investigators. Frick and President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League confer with Representatives Celler (D-NY) and Keating (R-NY) of the House Antitrust on a bill to clarify the legal status of all professional team sports.

Latest indications are that the subcommittee will come up with a compromise along the lines of a proposal by Keating to exempt all but the strictly commercial aspects of baseball, football, basketball and hockey from federal antitrust laws. In that situation, the much disputed reserve clause binding a player to his team would probably be excluded but such phases as television contracts undoubtedly would be subject to antitrust regulations.

One purpose of today's meeting is to consider what should and should not be considered commercial aspects for purposes of the law. The TV problem is another.

One network (CBS) said recently half a dozen clubs had made arrangements to televise a Sunday "Game of the Week" in 1958.

COLUMBIANA

Village Seeks to Better 1957 March of Dimes Goal of $3,620

COLUMBIANA — Letters of solicitation will be mailed soon in the annual local March of Dimes campaign as leaders seek to match or surpass last year's collections of $3,620.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club, the drive is headed by A. C. Ferguson as chairman. He is being assisted by John Barrow and Charles Harper. The Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club is reported preparing plans for its annual contribution in the campaign — the mothers' march on polio.

Rotarians will boost the drive on Feb. 10 with a box social. Wives of members will be guests. All proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

MARK KLINGENSMITH chairman for the Fairfield Township Christmas Seal sale, reports a total of $3,086.09 has been collected toward the goal of $3,300. County-wide collections to date are $30,184 as compared with a goal of $35,000.

Riding a four-game win streak and victors in five of six games this season, the Columbiana High School Clippers travel to Lisbon tonight for a Tri-County League contest. Friday night, they'll be at home to Poland.

Carol Fisher, daughter of Councilman G. Charles Fisher, has taken a position as a clerk with the Navy department in Washington, D.C.

Leonard B. Hively has sold his home on S. Middle St. to Robert C. and Carol Douglas.

AN ANNUAL MEETING to discuss farm management problems will be conducted at 8 p.m. Jan. 23 at the Memorial Building in Salem. The speaker will be Lester Arnold, extension economist from Ohio State University. Arnold also will be in the county this Thursday to assist in farm management work. Persons needing help to complete their books will meet in the extension service office in Lisbon.

Triple M. Class of the Presbyterian Church will meet at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lake of Lower Elkton Rd.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Somebody break it gently to Karl Marx, wherever he is. The proletariat is disappearing. American labor is going Ivy League at a rapid rate that the workers of our world 20 years hence will have nothing to lose but the chains which hold their Phi Beta Kappa keys.

Factory jobs are disappearing fast. I talk not of unemployment as such but of the number of separate tasks which once had to be performed. At least $50.00 such job slots have been wiped out as new factories replace the old.

The General Electric Co., for example, has dismantled much of its New England production divisions in its shift to a fabulous polished plant in Louisville, Ky. That Louisville plant can whip out more gadgets with thousands fewer workers.

It's a sign of the times that this trend — though unnoticed and not yet widely discussed — is considered so sensational that labor's skilled technicians are saying that "the entire approach to labor negotiations must be revamped drastically since outmoded concepts of the country's economic picture are outmoding many previous union contract demands."

THESE LABOR technicians will meet in Washington on Jan. 16 to analyze what has happened — and they'll meet behind closed doors with the press excluded. These AFL-CIO researchers believe that 1958 must not slip by without detailed planning to meet the swiftness with which the white-collar worker, the engineer and the push-button and dial operators of the future replace the factory worker.

This development already has occurred in several major industries, indicating to the experts that in two decades the new labor leader will have to be a trained college graduate to head a movement in which the production and maintenance workers, the over-all men of today, will have all but disappeared.

At this moment 50 per cent of the workers in the oil refining industry are white collar, non-production workers. At least 40 per cent in the chemical and aircraft industries are white collar workers. Of those in the electrical industry, one-third are clerical, technical or professional.

which in turn runs other machinery is installed and almost literally learns "to think" by itself, the production and maintenance workers in the auto and steel industries are being replaced by the white collar people — including increasing numbers of women.

It went almost unnoticed last Tuesday, but this trend explains why Dave McDonald told 1,000 United Stelworkers of America officials in Washington that their union MUST launch a vigorous drive to organize white collar people.

McDonald said the giant union, usually symbolized by a husky fellow sweating it out at a blazing blast furnace, would be "seriously weakened" if it didn't organize the white collar and technical workers in the steel industry.

There are 100,000 of these, according to John Pastin, chief of the office and technical workers organizing drive for USW. The 1,000 officials were instructed to go home and "set up organizing committees in each one of your plants for the express purpose of organizing the office and technical workers."

THERE WILL BE even more white collar, professional and "unskilled" technicians when the Pentagon begins spending billions on new type missiles and atom-powered sub, aircraft and power stations.

Disappearance of the production and maintenance workers who earn their living with hands and brawn, means a steady and serious loss in union membership.

Furthermore, the college and high school generations are flocking to the retail, wholesale and distribution

SENTENCE IS FOR REAL

DETROIT (AP)—Marc A. Brousseau will get a chance to find out what happens in a play after the last scene.

Brousseau, 34, an amateur actor, was sentenced to 16 days for driving without a license by Traffic Judge John D. Watts.

"Don't you remember me, judge?" Brousseau asked before Judge Watts passed sentence.

Brousseau explained he played the part of a defendant on Traffic Court, a television show Judge Watts starred in last year.

"Oh yes," the judge responded, "but this time the sentence is for real."

The President Starlight

From the Home of the Golden Hawks...

The newest, most original Hardtops on the American road...

1958 Studebaker Starlights

From the famed Golden Hawk comes the long, low high-fashion styling, the graceful fins, the open-air gaiety... of America's newest hardtops!

Luxury-styled, precision built, both the President and Commander Starlights combine the open-air freedom of a convertible with the all-weather snugness of a luxury sedan.

And, beneath their original exteriors, they retain all the extra craftsmanship that value-conscious car owners have long associated with Studebaker-Packard automobiles: dependable Sweepstakes engine with choice of horsepower and transmission; Safety-Built bodies; variable ratio steering, and extra large brake lining area.

Comfort, too, is everything you'd expect... from the heavily upholstered, deep-piled cushioned seats and extra foot room in rear... to the safety-padded dashboard and exclusive Flight-Style instrument panel.

Visit your local Studebaker-Packard Dealer today... he'll be proud to show you these two all-new cars; gladly send you off to guest-drive your choice.
